Retiring Collection this weekend: Day for Life

Day for Life Collection is one way we support efforts to protect the sanctity of all human life, from beginning to end.

Dear Parishioners & Friends

Today the Church celebrates the wonderful feast of Corpus Christ, the Body and Blood of Jesus Christ. The following is taken from a homily which Pope Francis delivered on the feast after he was elected pope in 2013.

In the Gospel we have listened to, Jesus says something that I always find striking: “you give them something to eat” (Lk 9:13). Starting with this sentence I am letting myself be guided by three words; following [sequela], communion, sharing.

1. First of all: who are those who must be given something to eat? We find the answer at the beginning of the Gospel passage: it is the crowd, the multitude. Jesus is in the midst of the people, he welcomes them, he speaks to them, he heals them, he shows them God’s mercy; it is from among them that he chooses the Twelve Apostles to be with him and, like him, to immerse themselves in the practical situations of the world. Furthermore, the people follow him and listen to him.

Today we are the crowd of the Gospel, we too seek to follow Jesus in order to listen to him, to enter into communion with him in the Eucharist, to accompany him and in order that he accompany us. Let us ask ourselves: how do I follow Jesus? Jesus speaks in silence in the Mystery of the Eucharist. He reminds us every time that following him means going out of ourselves and not making our life a possession of our own, but rather a gift to him and to others.

2. Let us take another step. What does Jesus’ request to the disciples, that they themselves give food to the multitude, come from? It comes from two things: first of all, from the crowd, who in following Jesus find themselves in the open air, far from any inhabited areas, while evening is falling; and then from the concern of the disciples who ask Jesus to send the crowd away so that they can go to the neighbouring villages to find provisions and somewhere to stay (cf. Lk 9:12).

Faced with the needs of the crowd the disciples’ solution was this: let each one think of himself — send the crowd away! How often do we Christians have this temptation! We do not take upon ourselves the needs of others, but dismiss them with a pious: “God help you”, or with a not so pious “good luck”, and if I never see you again.... But Jesus’ solution goes in another direction, a direction that astonishes the disciples: “You give them something to eat”. Yet how could we be the ones to give a multitude something to eat? “We have no more than five loaves and two fish — unless we are to go and buy food for all these people” (Lk 9:13). However, Jesus does not despair. He asks the disciples to have the people sit down in groups of 50 people. He looks up to heaven, recites the blessing, breaks the bread and fish into pieces and gives them to the disciples to distribute (cf. Lk 9:16). It is a moment of deep communion: the crowd is satisfied by the word of the Lord and is now nourished by his bread of life. And they were all satisfied, the Evangelist notes (cf. Lk 9:17).

This evening we too are gathered round the table of the Lord, the table of the Eucharistic sacrifice, in which he once again gives us his Body and makes present the one sacrifice of the Cross. It is in listening to his word, in nourishing ourselves with his Body and his Blood that he moves us on from being a multitude to being a community, from anonymity to communion. The Eucharist is the sacrament of communion that brings us out of individualism so that we may follow him together, living out our faith in him.

3. A final element: where does the multiplication of the loaves come from? The answer lies in Jesus' request to the disciples: "You give them...", "to give", to share. What do the disciples share? The little they have: five loaves and two fish. However, it is those very loaves and fish in the Lord's hands that feed the entire crowd. And it is the disciples themselves, bewildered as they face the insufficiency of their means, the poverty of what they are able to make available, who get the people to sit down and who — trusting in Jesus' words — distribute the loaves and fish that satisfy the crowd. And this tells us that in the Church, but also in society, a key word of which we must not be frightened is "solidarity", that is, the ability to make what we have, our humble capacities, available to God, for only in sharing, in giving, will our life be fruitful. Solidarity is a word seen badly by the spirit of the world!

Brothers and sisters, following, communion, sharing. Let us pray that participation in the Eucharist may always be an incentive: to follow the Lord every day, to be instruments of communion and to share what we are with him and with our neighbour. Our life will then be truly fruitful. Amen.

Re-covering the Kneelers in Church: We are pleased to say that we are starting a schedule of recovering the battered kneelers in church. A few individual hassocks were tried out as a way of replacing the kneelers, but the best solution is to recover what we have at present, and this will happen, piece by piece, over the coming months. Hassocks will appear as a temporary measure to replace kneelers as they are taken away.

NEXT SATURDAY 25 June

AN INVITATION TO TOUR OUR CHURCH AND GROUNDS AND ALSO JOIN US FOR TEA, CAKES AND A CHAT

Next Saturday 25th June, parishioners and friends of St. Anne's Church will be able to visit our church and find out more about its history.

A printed guide to the interesting features will be available and there will be people on hand to answer any questions.

There's also the chance to tour the grounds and follow the Tree Trail which starts on the lawn next to the Priory.

Much work has been completed in the grounds so you will be able to see the trees supplied by the Woodland Trust planted in a heart shape. Members of St. Bede's Gardening Club helped in the planting. A good deal of the overgrown woodland has been cleared with a newly created path to guide you through.

Then afterwards (or before), pop into the Pastoral Centre for afternoon tea and a chance to relax and chat.

This is the first of St. Anne's summer events, further details of which will be in the Bulletin each week.

Church open: 1.00 - 4.00pm

Refreshments in Pastoral Centre: 2.00 – 4.30pm

CAN YOU HELP?

An Appeal for Photographs of St. Anne's Parish

On the Family Fun Day on 16th July, (details in this bulletin), there will also be displays of photographs in the Pastoral Centre.

We do already have some photos of events of the past and present, but we would love to show more of how it used to be in St. Anne's parish. Do you have photographs of First Communion groups, May processions, Parish gatherings and visitations?

If anyone has some gems hidden away, would you be willing to lend them to us? We wouldn't need to display the original photographs as they would be photocopied to put on boards for people to see. The originals would be returned to their owners as soon as possible.

If you are able to help, could you put your photographs in an envelope and leave them in the safe hands of the Parish Office? Please include your name and contact details for the envelope to be returned. Any information to go with the photos would be much appreciated. People are fascinated by times past, and it would be lovely to be able to share your memories with them.

12th Sunday in Ordinary Time

IN THE GOSPEL TODAY
Jesus and his disciples sail across a lake but are hit by a terrible storm along the way. The disciples are so frightened they wake Jesus up. Jesus calms the storm and wonders why his friends did not have more faith.

My name is _____

DON'T BE SCARED!
Join the dots to see the wind, waves and storm clouds that Jesus and his disciples faced.
How would you have felt if you were in that boat?
amazed afraid happy

Scary times The disciples are happy now they know that Jesus can calm any storm.
The disciples were very afraid in the storm. When Jesus calmed the storm, they were amazed.
Can you draw on the faces how the disciples felt in the boat?

Sail safely
Jesus wanted to sail to the other side of the lake. Can you help the disciples navigate the storms so they get there safely?

What is Jesus telling us?
How amazing, that Jesus was asleep in the middle of the storm!
What did he want to teach the disciples?
T I H A
H E V F A
Move each letter to its empty shape to see what Jesus wanted them to learn.

A PRAYER TO SAY
Dear Jesus, sometimes I am afraid of things I think will happen to me. Sometimes it is only my mind telling me these things. Help me remember that I am loved and that, no matter what, you are always at my side. Amen.

Answers: Have faith.
